SECTION 5

AGENCY OVERVIEW AND APPROPRIATIONS SUMMARY

AGENCY OVERVIEW

The role of the Australian National Training Authority (ANTA) is to facilitate an integrated national vocational education and training system. In doing this, ANTA provides Commonwealth, State and Territory ministers with advice on policies and mechanisms to achieve this national focus. It also facilitates the implementation of agreed policy by the State and Territory Vocational Education and Training Authorities.

Vocational Education and Training (VET) is post compulsory education and training that provides people with the skills and learning required by enterprises and industries. The VET sector comprises the State and Territory public TAFE systems; adult and community education institutions that deliver vocational education and training; and other registered training organisations (including schools, community organisations, enterprises and industry bodies) that deliver vocational education and training leading to nationally recognised qualifications.

The ANTA Ministerial Council, comprising the Commonwealth, State and Territory Ministers with responsibility for Vocational Education and Training, sets annual goals, objectives and priorities for the national system. These national priorities are known as the Annual National Priorities. For 2000, the annual national priorities for the VET system were:

- Consolidation of national training arrangements
- Achieving diversity and flexibility to meet the needs of all
- Ensuring value for money
- Changing attitudes to training

APPROPRIATIONS

In total, the Authority will receive $997.968 million in Commonwealth funding in 2000-01. These funds will be directed towards particular purposes, as described below.

The Commonwealth provides funding for national programs to the Authority which operate under section 11 of the Australian National Training Authority Act 1992. These funds are applied to the ongoing administration of Commonwealth national programs in the sector, and to support industry's implementation and take up of vocational education and training. These funds are appropriated to the Department, and transferred to ANTA. For 2000-01, national program funding of $42.696 million will be administered.

The Vocational Education and Training Funding Act 1992 is a special appropriation. The funds are allocated to the States and Territories, and for national projects, in order to promote a national vocational education and training system. These funds are appropriated to the Department and transferred to ANTA. For the 2001 calendar year, the Authority will administer $944.479 million under this Act.

The Authority receives a direct appropriation from the Commonwealth Budget for the operating activities of the Authority. For 2000-01, the Authority has been allocated $10.793 million. Table 1.1, on the following page, shows the total appropriations for the Australian National Training Authority for 2000-01 by outcome.

Outcomes		Output Groups
Outcome 1	To ensure that the skills of the Australian labour force are sufficient to support internationally competitive commerce and industry and to provide individuals with opportunities to optimise their potential.	Output 1	To achieve the deliverables outlined in the national key result areas of the Annual National Priorities. For 2000, the priorities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Consolidation of national training arrangements</li> <li>• Achieving diversity and flexibility to meet the needs of all</li> <li>• Ensuring value for money</li> <li>• Changing attitudes to training</li> </ul>

OUTCOME 1

To ensure that the skills of the Australian labour force are sufficient to support internationally competitive commerce and industry and to provide individuals with opportunities to optimise their potential.

DESCRIPTION

Vocational education and training is a key ingredient in developing and sustaining Australia's economic competitiveness and ensuring access to life long learning opportunities for all Australians. The Commonwealth, through ANTA, is committed to facilitating this in partnership with the major stakeholders within the vocational education and training sector, including State and Territory governments, industry, providers and individuals.

Key objectives under this outcome are equipping Australians for the world of work; enhancing mobility in the labour market; achieving equitable outcomes in vocational education and training; increasing investment in training and maximising the value of public vocational education and training expenditure.

In 2000-01, the Commonwealth will invest $997.968 million in the vocational education and training system through ANTA. There are no Budget or Non-budget Measures proposed for the Authority in the 2000-01 Budget.

CONTRIBUTION OF OUTPUTS TO OUTCOME 1

The Australian National Training Authority's outputs related to the vocational education and training sector reflect the Government's decision to pursue vocational education and training in partnership with industry and other levels of Government.

The Annual National Priorities and national key result areas agreed by Commonwealth, State and Territory ministers, act as the general framework for ANTA's work throughout the year. Within the framework, the Authority prepares the ANTA Annual Plan, which sets out in detail the work to be undertaken by the Authority during the period. This Plan, and the report against the Plan, are published in the Authority's Annual Performance Report in September each year.
