Dear Sir/Madam

I have received your discussion paper.

In relation to my submission about the universities function in providing non-credit continuing education I note only a mention on page 3 about developing a well informed and socially responsible community. I hope that in your report to the Government you will set out in more detail how this can be achieved, and bear in mind the fact that high fees for such programs can limit the number of people who can benefit.

Yours sincerely

Colin Lawton
